

RS200B MINI-BUDGET TO APPEASE IMF ON CARDS

ISLAMABAD: The government may impose taxes to the tune of Rs200 billion – with effect from next month – aimed at breaking a deadlock with the International Monetary Fund (IMF).

However, the current uncertain political situation in the country is causing a delay in taking a final decision in this regard.

The move came after the global money lender asked Pakistan to honour its commitments and take measures to bridge the revenue shortfall of nearly Rs220 billion that surfaced by the end of the first half (July-December) of the current fiscal year.

Finance Minister Ishaq Dar has started taking meetings on the new budgetary proposals, including expanding discussions on the power tariff increase. Dar took meetings on the weekend in Lahore after returning from Dubai where no progress could be made on selling the state assets to the UAE.

Earlier, the government's plan was to only impose taxes on imports as well as on commercial banks to generate about Rs80 billion for the rehabilitation of flood victims. However, government sources said that the list has been further expanded, which includes substantially increasing the capital value tax rates on imported and locally assembled vehicles, sugary drinks and petroleum products.

Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif was expected to take a briefing at the weekend in Lahore but due to his political engagements, the meeting could not take place. The political uncertainty coupled with the increasing unpopularity of the PML-N is a reason behind the reluctance to take new measures.

Pakistan will also have to let the rupee gain its real value, as the IMF may not be pleased with the mere imposition of new taxes.

The official rupee-dollar parity is Rs228.35 but in the Hawala market, it is over Rs270.

The sources said that earlier the plan was to impose at least 1% to 3% flood levy on imports and a 41% additional income tax on banks' foreign exchange-related earnings from January. But now the government is targeting the first week of February. It is not clear whether the government will bring one presidential ordinance or two.

The flood levy might not be treated as a money bill unless the speaker National Assembly declares it so. The changes in the Federal Excise Act, the Income Tax Ordinance and amendments in the sixth schedule of the Sales Tax Act will require bringing a money bill through an ordinance.

However, the Senate is in session and the government will have to prorogue it to introduce the ordinance.

The Federal Board of Revenue on Monday also reshuffled heads of some field formations, including removing Dr Aftab Imam, Chief Commissioner of Medium Taxpayers Office, Karachi, due to his poor performance. He has not been given any new charge. In his place, Yousif Hyder Shaikh, has been made the chief commissioner of the tax office.

About three years ago, the FBR had also decided to take action against Imam due to his irregular action of giving a 36-month salary as a reward without following laid-down procedures. As a chief commissioner, he went on to disburse Rs21.2 million to his favourites but the FBR never took this matter to the logical end.

The FBR also posted Khurshid Marwat as chief commissioner of the Regional Tax Office, Sargodha.

Despite a steep revenue shortfall, Finance Minister Ishaq Dar said last week that the government will stick to the FBR's annual Rs7.470 trillion tax target. This is not possible without additional revenue measures of at least Rs200 billion

Against the Rs7.470 trillion tax collection target, the sources said that the IMF has anticipated Rs420 billion shortfall. But the FBR has lately claimed that it will face only Rs170 billion to Rs180 billion shortfall, which appears on the lower side.

The sources said that the government was reviewing the possibility of either reintroducing the sales tax on petroleum products or further increasing the petroleum levy rates over and above the current maximum threshold of Rs50 per litre.

In the case of petrol, the government has already achieved the maximum petroleum levy threshold of Rs50 per litre. For the January 16-31 fortnight, the Oil and Gas Regulatory Authority had recommended Rs1 per litre cut in petrol price. Since there was no scope to further increase the prices, the government increased the oil marketing companies' profit margins by the same amount.

But it increased the petroleum levy rate by Rs2.50 per litre to Rs35 in the case of high-speed diesel. The petroleum levy rates on kerosene oil increased to Rs6.22 per litre and light diesel oil Rs30 per litre.

After the revision in rates, the government is now expecting to collect over Rs40 billion in the second fortnight of the current fiscal year – a net increase of Rs1.1 billion in 15 days due to upward adjustment in levy rates.

The collection of the petroleum levy will remain lower than the annual target of Rs855 billion. The government is now facing pressure from the IMF to enhance the levy rates to increase the collection. Similarly, there was also a demand by the IMF to reintroduce the GST on petroleum products to cover revenue shortfall against the FBR's targets.

The sources said that there were also discussions to increase the federal excise duty rates on aerated water and sugary drinks from the existing 13%. It may go up to 20% but no final decision has been taken yet about the rates.

In addition to that, the government is already in the process of imposing a flood levy on imports and an income levy on the foreign exchange earnings of the commercial banks. The net additional tax on the banks' foreign exchange earnings could be 41%, excluding the taxes that they are already paying on their income.

The government was also considering withdrawing sales tax exemptions including on import of raw materials, components, parts and plant and machinery by registered persons authorised under the export facilitation scheme.

The 17% sales tax could be slapped on imported goods temporarily imported into Pakistan, meant for subsequent exportation charged to zero-rate of customs duty.

NEW TAX RAISING STEPS UNDER CONSIDERATION

ISLAMABAD: The proposed revenue measures to be taken through the Presidential Ordinance may include an increase in the rates of withholding taxes, more indirect taxation, three percent flood levy on imports, and tax on banks' foreign exchange income. Sources told Business Recorder on Tuesday that the additional revenue measures would mostly cover indirect taxes and increasing rates of withholding taxes (WHT). The three percent flood levy could generate additional revenue of Rs60 billion. The government is also considering imposing tax on banks' foreign exchange income.

Some other proposals under examination are to increase taxes on sugary beverages and tobacco, and the rate of withholding taxes may be enhanced on property transactions. Another proposal is to raise the capital value tax rates on imported and locally-assembled vehicles. In this connection, the revenue impact of different withholding taxes is under consideration.

The initial draft of the Presidential Ordinance has been prepared incorporating proposals of three percent flood levy on imports and tax on banks' foreign exchange income. However, there is no further development on the said ordinance.

According to the sources, the FBR has repeatedly requested the government to impose 17 percent sales tax on petroleum products to generate additional revenue equivalent to the amount of projected revenue of Rs60 billion through the promulgation of the Ordinance. The FBR can easily impose sales tax through a notification. However, the FBR has been unable to get the approval of Finance Minister Ishaq Dar to impose sales tax on petroleum products.

In November 2022, the Economic Coordination Committee (ECC) of the Cabinet had deferred the Federal Board of Revenue (FBR)'s proposal seeking the imposition of 17 percent sales tax on High Octane Blending Component (HOBC) and RON-97.

The FBR has estimated to collect Rs7,300 billion by the end of 2022-23 against the assigned target of Rs7,470 billion for the ongoing fiscal year. The customs duty collection witnessed a major decrease during the first half (July-December) of 2022-23 due to the import compression. The FBR's Inland Revenue has estimated that they would be able to achieve the assigned tax collection target in the second half (Jan-June) period of the current fiscal year, so the income tax, sales tax and federal excise duty (FED) related targets would remain intact.

STATE REVENUE: FTO DIRECTS FBR TO IMPLEMENT EFFECTIVE MECHANISM

ISLAMABAD: The Federal Tax Ombudsman (FTO) has directed the Federal Board of Revenue (FBR) to implement an effective mechanism between directorate general of Intelligence and Investigation Inland Revenue and Regional Tax Offices (RTOs) to safeguard the state revenue. In this regard, the FTO has issued an order on Tuesday. The complaint was filed against the directorate general of Intelligence and Investigation Inland Revenue Multan for non-compliance to the Appellate Tribunal Inland Revenue order for release of confiscated local branded cigarettes.

The FTO has directed the chief commissioner (IR) RTO, Multan and Director I&I (IR) Multan to implement the orders of the Appellate Tribunal Inland Revenue. Details revealed that a transport service provider deals in retail sale of goods and beverages etc for the purpose of income tax. The directorate general of Intelligence and Investigation Inland Revenue Multan seized 120 cartons of local branded cigarettes along with the vehicle with the allegation and assumption that the complainant was transporting and supplying illicit, counterfeit and non-duty paid cigarettes. The driver of the vehicle submitted the commercial invoice, but the intelligence staff illegally seized the goods with the consignment.

The Appellate Tribunal passed an order with the observation that the confiscation of 120 cartons of local branded cigarettes with the vehicle and the demand of the federal excise duty (FED) has been made without confirming the record and giving reason is without any justification. The tribunal has no hesitation to delete the charges levelled in the order.

The Appellate Tribunal has also directed the FBR's field office to release the seized cartons of cigarettes unconditionally. Consequent to the order of the Appellate Tribunal, the complainant approached the directorate general of Intelligence and Investigation (IR) Multan to release the cartons along with the vehicle. However, more than 5 months have lapsed but the goods and the vehicle are still in the custody of the officials which is a direct contempt of the order passed by the Appellate Tribunal. The officials of the directorate of Intelligence and Investigation (IR) are misusing their position to harass the complainant by not responding to his request.

The FTO order stated that evidently directorate of Intelligence and Investigation (IR) Multan submitted the case to the Regional Tax Office (RTO) Multan for adjudication. The FBR official adjudicated the case. Being aggrieved the complainant filed an appeal before the commissioner IR (Appeals) Multan who dismissed the appeal and confirmed the order of the Inland Revenue officer. Later, the complainant filed an appeal with the Appellate Tribunal which directed that the vehicle and cartons be released unconditionally and deleted the charges leveled in the order being against the facts and law. The complainant has approached the forum of the FTO for implementation of the order passed by the Appellate Tribunal. It has been found that the Director Intelligence and Investigation (IR) Multan requested the RTO Multan to take possession of the confiscated goods/vehicle after firming up to the seizure report, but the department has failed to do so and the goods are still lying with the Directorate general I&I (IR) Multan.
